Tenbrocck and Mollie M'Carthy-For Ten Thousand Dollars.

On the fourth day of July next the turf his tory of our country will be made memorable by the contest between the two equally famou race horses, 'enbroeck, of Kentucky, and Mollie M'Carthy, the hitherto invincible queen of California. These two horses are well matched in speed and endurance, and, judged by their public performances, it will be difficult to name the winner. Tenbroeck has the best record for all distances from one to four miles, and Miss Mollie has run thir teen races at all distances, from one mile to four-mile heats, and won all in the easiest manner possible. She has beaten three horses that have beaten Tenbroeck, and as her past performances are considered no index of what she is yet capable, we may reasonably expect to witness such a race, at four-mile heats, as has never yet been run. This race is to come off over the Louisville jockey club track, which is one of the finest in the country, and is famous in turf history for the notable events which have been run over it. The charge for admission that day will be one do-lar to the field, and an additional charge will be made for the club-house and grand stand privileges. All railroad and steamboat lines have made half-rate fares to Louisville, which are good from July 1st to 6th. The race will attract thousands to Louisville. Telegraphic Scores. Lowell-Lowells, 5; Cincinnatis, 4. Providence-Providence, 9; Indianapolis, Games of Special Interest. ROCHESTER DEFEATS FOREST CITY. CLEVELAND, June 17 .- The Rochester and Forest City game to-day resulted in another defeat for the home club, the score standing 5 to 1 in favor of the Rochesters. Both clubs played poorly, although the Forest Citys played better than on Saturday. The only feature of interest was a very five overhead one-hand catch by the third baseman of the Rochester club in the fourth inning. mings had his thumb mashed in the fifth in-ning, and had to change to a left-field posttion. His playing was very poor from the start; it may be accounted for by a very bad hand. Saulsbury's pitching was fair to-day, although the Rochesters batted him without much effort. About eighteen hundred persons witnessed the game, and all left the grounds disappointed. Some of the Forest City club will have to turn over a new leaf and keep themselves in better shape for ballplaying, or the lovers of the game will lose ill interest, and the flattering patronage the club has so far received will cease almost entirely. It is to be hoped that a word to the wise will be sufficient. BEAN-EATERS SLAUGHTER PORK-PACKERS Boston, Mass., June 17.—The first appearance of the Cincinnatis here was attended with a great deal of interest. It rained all the forenoon, and the weather was threatening until after three o'clock. Nevertheless, over fifty-nine hundred persons passed the turnstile, and every run was scored amidst the greatest excitement. The visitors were first at the bat, and the game alternated from one side to the other until the last inning, when Morrill came in from third and Snyder from second on a bad throw by Jim White to catch Snyder stealing second. Both pitchers did some very good work, White bothering his opponents by well-disguised changes of pace, and Bond and Snyder capturing some of Cincinnati's best hitters. He has reared nine sons to man's estate; in an ordinary run of luck there would have been farmers, mechanics, tradesmen and professional men among these, and they would have accomplished things that would make an aged father's heart swell with pride. But what satisfaction is there for this unhappy father of a base-ball nine? The fruits of his life-work are, as we have inventoried them, a pitcher, catcher, short-stop, three bases and three fielders; the results of their existence are runs, first bases, base-hits, and the like. Now let us try to realize this thing in all its solemnity. The father of a farmer sees the soil clothed with ripening crops, and he knows that he has done a good work. Qui fecit alium fecit per se. The father of a lightning-rod agent sees the gables of farm buildings bristling with burnished points of metal, and the picturesqueness of the landscape is enhanced. Bill Specifying Tennessee Marble for the Memphis Custombouse, a Compliment to its Author and his State.

Mr. Young's Industry and Popularity in Congress Indicated by the Number of Important Measures he has Succeeded in Working through-Other Matters of General Interest.

Occasional Correspondence of the Appeal. show card, says the Hartford Times, it would Washington, June 17 .- The house of rep relieve the monotony somewhat if part of resentatives, in response to the senate reso-lution to postpone adjournment from to-day until next Thursday, passed a resolution Saturday night fixing four o'clock to-morrow as the time for adjournment. An unusual compliment and one never paid to any other State or representative was paid to Tennessee tured criticism and comment, coupled with and Mr. Young, of your district, in the passcowardly insinuations on the part of the base- age of the bill providing for the construction ball editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer. We of the Memphis customhouse building out of regret to see this, as the Enquirer gave promise of fair treatment on all sides at the opening of the season. It is, however, the Young, and of his influence in the house, as well as a handsome tribute to the State. When the bill first came to the house, it encountered much opposition on account of its unusual character and the additional cost which would accrue, as well as for what was by many thought to be an unjust discrimination in favor of Tennessee marble, and against the building material of other States.

But Mr. Young went resolutely but quietly to work and took the testimony of army officers, architects and experts in building material ing the week demonstrated that their friends and upon the proof thus obtained he prepared and submitted to the house a report showing that Tennessee marble is the best, most durable and cheapest building materia for public edifices on the continent. When this report was ready he sought to bring the before the house for action, but Mr Speaker Randall being for some cause extremely hostile to the measure, refused to re-cognize Mr. Young for that purpose. Under the rules of the house, the speaker has ab solute power over such matters, and has h his power to defeat any are he wishes to. Under these surroundings, Mr. Young's only remaining hope was to present his bill as an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill. One of the speaker's friends, on the floor watching the progress of the bill, raised a point of order on Mr. Young that his amendment increased the appropriation fixed in the bill, and the point was sustained by the speaker, which required it to be stricken out, and the amend ment was passed simply requiring the con-struction of the building out of Tennessee
